MILDRED CRADDOCK VICTIM OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

The sad news was received on Saturday of the death of Mildred Craddock, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Craddock of the Carbon district. Mildred left about three weeks ago to spend a few weeks with her aunt at De Winton and last week it was reported that she was stricken with infantile paralysis, although the case was not serious. On Saturday it was reported that she had died that morning from the effects of the disease.

The deceased was 23 years of age and was born near Carbon. She was numbered among the list of Carbon Old Timers and her name appeared on the register of that Association.

The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community goes forth to immediate relatives of the deceased, who number her father and mother, one sister and one brother, all living on the farm near Carbon.

Funeral services were held in Calgary on Sunday, Aug. 31st, and interment was made in the Burnside Cemetery, Calgary.

CANADIAN CARS LOSE PREFERENCE

The government of the dominion of New Zealand has decided to place Canadian motor vehicles and accessories on the general tariff list, thus depriving them of the preference now accorded. In making the announcement, Premier G. W. Forbes gave a lengthy review of the position of the trade between Canada and New Zealand and told of the government's negotiations to conclude a direct trade treaty with Canada. Mr. Forbes added that the new Canadian administration had informed the New Zealand government that they could not extend the Australian treaty rates to New Zealand products beyond the month of October, but that Canada was willing to negotiate a direct trade agreement.

"THE SHAKEDOWN" PROVES AN EXCEPTIONAL PICTURE

Occasionally there comes to the screen an unheralded picture that proves to be a knockout. Such a picture is Universal's "The Shakedown," which will show at the Carbon Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The leading roles in the production are entrusted to two of the screen's most promising youngsters, James Murray and Barbara Kent. The acting of these two is, at times, inspiring.

Telling a stirring story of the oil fields and prize ring, "The Shakedown" has for its theme the age-old ruse of unscrupulous promoters of faked fights staged for the express intention of collecting bets. Murray portrays the role of the come-on man for a group of ring racketeers who are working the faked fight racket in small communities. Sent into an oil town with instructions to get a job, make friends and pave the way for his next faked fight with Battling Roff, a professional light heavyweight, Murray meets the girl, played by Miss Kent, and a nine-year-old street waif, played by Jack Hanlon, and because of their love for him, decides to forsake his old racket for a life more honorable.

There is nothing saccharine or mawkish about the story. As Dave Roberts Murray does not indulge in any tawdry sentimentalities about his intended reform, but merely decides to go straight rather than lose the respect of people he loves. His decision results in the scheduled fight being on the square and the picture climaxes with fight scenes that bring the audience out of their chairs.

The remainder of the cast includes George Kotsaros, Wheeler Oakman, Jack Hanlon and Harry Gribbin. William Wyler directed the picture.

PARLIAMENT TO OPEN SEPT. 8

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—Parliament will meet on Monday, September 8th, at noon.

The address in reply to the Speech from the Throne will be followed by a speech from Hon. Mackenzie King and replied to by Hon. R. B. Bennett in his initial address as Premier. Robt. Gardiner, U. F. A. leader will probably continue the debate.

The first steps of new legislation to take place by the new government will be the legislation to cope with the present unemployment situation, and it is to be hoped that this question can be successfully dealt with.

ALBERTA COARSE GRAIN POOL WILL NOT OPERATE THIS YEAR

Farmers who are members of the coarse grain pool in Alberta can market their oats, barley, rye or flax on the open market as a result of the decision of directors to suspend operations for the current year.

Following is the official announcement:

"The board of directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool have decided to suspend the operations of the Alberta Coarse Grain Pool for the current crop year. Pool elevators, however, will handle coarse grains delivered by the pool members on a cash basis, paying the current market price, as was the practice prior to the formation of the Coarse Grains Pool.

"The reason for the temporary suspension of the Alberta Coarse Grains Pool is due to the fact that prices for coarse grains are at such a low level that the pool initial payment must of necessity be restricted to a nominal amount. In view of the entire situation the directors feel that the immediate cash requirements of many members of the Coarse Grains Pool are of such importance that the suspension of operations of the pool for a year is advisable.

"The Alberta Coarse Grains Pool contract permits the directors to suspend the operations of the organization by a public announcement prior to September 1st of each year."

ALBERTA GETS RESOURCES ON OCTOBER 1ST

It is announced that Alberta natural resources will be formally handed over to the Province on the first day of October. An agreement, providing for the formal transfer, has been reached between the provincial and federal governments and has been signed in their behalf by Premier Brownlee and Hon. Chas. Stewart.

SYMPTOMS OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS EXPLAINED

Owing to the recent outbreak at several points in the province of this dread disease the Department of Health at Edmonton has given a short synopsis of the symptoms.

They should be studied carefully. The physical signs on which one may make a diagnosis are fairly characteristic. There is prostration, which is out of proportion to the temperature, the latter being as a rule, under 102 Fahrenheit. The face is flushed, expression is anxious and there is frequent pallor around the nose and mouth. The throat is mildly infected, but not enough in itself to account for the child's condition.

The pulse is usually rapid, out of proportion to the temperature.

BANK OF MONTR'L CROP REPORT

General—Favourable weather in the Prairie Provinces has permitted rapid progress in cutting, although there have been some delays on account of rain and some severe hail losses in sections of Alberta. Wheat yields generally have so far been somewhat better than were expected. Quebec—warm, dry weather is needed for harvesting operations. In Ontario recent rains have benefited pasturage and corn, roots, tobacco and fruit crops. In the Maritime Provinces the weather conditions are satisfactory except in Nova Scotia, where rain is still needed. In British Columbia reports from the interior are good, owing to recent rains, while in the Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island rain is needed for roots and pasturage. Details follow:

Alberta, Northeastern Area—Harvesting is well advanced despite interruptions by heavy rains, regional hail storms have done serious damage. Wheat yields are 8 to 25 bushels, grading 1 to 3 Northern.

Southeastern Area—Fifty per cent. of cutting is completed, with average yield 10 bushels, grading 1 and 2 Northern.

Western Alberta—Harvesting is well advanced, estimated yields run from 5 to 25 bushels. Serious damage by hail, while not widespread, has been reported. An unusually heavy sugar beet yield is expected.

Saskatchewan, Northern area—Harvesting is well advanced, cutting is 65

BLACK DIAMOND MINE TO OPERATE

The "Carbon Black Coals" (Black Diamond Mine) will operate at full capacity this winter and it is expected that about 75 men will be employed steadily this fall and winter, according to the manager, J. H. Oliphant. Mr. Oliphant stated that he had sufficient orders to handle about 300 tons a day for the winter and that with the remodelling and other work done this summer that the mine would be able to handle this. Recently electricity was installed throughout the mine and a new loading bin was constructed so that now a carload of coal may be loaded in less than thirty minutes. There is a rumour that Mr. Oliphant intends to install machines in the mine, although we have no verification of this.

per cent completed and threshing will be general by the end of August. The early threshing returns indicate yields on breaking and summerfallow of 15 to 25 bushels and on stubble of 8 to 12 bushels, grading 1 to 4 Northern.

Southern Saskatchewan—Cutting is 80 per cent completed, wheat yield is reported varying from 5 to 15 bushels grading 2 and 3.

Manitoba—Cutting of wheat is practically finished, that of other grains with the exception of flax, is nearing completion. Threshing of wheat is general. Yields vary greatly owing to rust damage. It is impossible to form an accurate estimate now, but present indications are for an average of 15 to 20 bushels grading No. 3.

TOWN PLANNING IN ALBERTA

(By Horace L. Seymour)

Being a series of short articles explanatory of the provisions of The Alberta Town Planning Act and Regulations thereunder.

ARTICLE I—INTRODUCTION

The Alberta Town Planning Act has been in operation for over a year and inquiries are received as to the principles of Town Planning, but particularly as to the operations of the Act or regulations thereunder.

It is also evident that many are not aware of some of the provisions of The Town Planning Act, or if aware, do not appreciate their value or significance.

Something has been accomplished through public meetings and correspondence but there seems to be a field in the further dissemination of town planning knowledge that can best be covered by the newspaper and these short articles to appear from time to time are prepared for that purpose.

The meaning of Town Planning most briefly defined as "community foresight" can best be described as the orderly treatment or arrangement of land and buildings both in town and country so that economy, convenience, health, and well-being may be secured—out of which may also arise community attractiveness, individual happiness. The carrying out of such a program of development may take some years but brings a rich reward to the individual and to the community.

What Town Planning is meaning to Alberta is probably best explained by brief description of some of the Provisions of The Town Planning Act and Regulations and this is the object of succeeding short articles, the first of which will appear in our next issue under the caption "The Subdivision of Land by Registration of Plans"

Getting Back To Nature

Summer vacation days are practically over and boys and girls, youths and maidens are getting back to their school books and studies while father returns to his office or store and mother to her varied household activities. If these vacation days have been sanely and sensibly spent the result is that those who have enjoyed them go back to their studies or work refreshed in mind and body, physically strengthened, more alert mentally, and in every way better fitted for the duties that lie ahead, with stored up energy from the life-giving rays of the sun to carry them through the shorter winter days.

A well spent vacation, however, means more than this, especially for the young. There is no period, no one month or day throughout life when our education is complete, when we are not learning something, absorbing some new and possibly lasting impressions, storing up additional information, gaining in knowledge. Because for a few weeks or months we abandon the school room and text books for a camp in the woods, or a motor trip, or a sojourn in the mountains or by the sea, does not imply that during such time our education comes to a full stop. Quite the reverse is true.

Indeed, living for a few weeks in a summer cottage by one of our lovely western prairie lakes, boating, bathing, fishing, rambling through the woods by day, watching the glorious sunsets and beautiful dawns, lazily contemplating the star-besprinkled sky at night, living the simple life, both in food and dress, one is inclined seriously to question whether in this intense, highly organized, mechanical age, we are not beginning to lose some of the best things in life, and to substitute the artificial for the natural.

For example, are not those responsible for our educational system, the training of our boys and girls for their life work, not missing something very vital and important in their programme of studies? Nowadays we take a boy or girl at the age of six or seven and introduce him and her to the great realm of books. Thus early in life we open up a new world to them, and from that time onward the tendency is for them to turn only to books, or to their teachers using text books, as the source of all information. Boys and girls may thus become great students of books, but they lose the greater pleasures, the romance, the fine inspiration which comes from the study and observation of nature itself and the wonderful works of nature.

The writer confesses that he always liked the ideas and ideals and programme back of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides movements, the training of youth in the art of close observation, of learning by doing. We like the idea of our Canadian boys and girls obtaining a knowledge of our flowers and trees, our birds and beetles and flies, yes, even our weeds, from nature itself rather than from books; we like them to recognize the evening star, and the dipper, and the north star in the great space of the sky overhead rather than in a diagram in a text book; we prefer they should know how to build a trustworthy footbridge over a stream they may have to cross rather than be forced to go miles out of their way to find a concrete or steel structure; we like to see them capable of starting a camp fire in a few minutes, cooking their own food, setting up a tent, making a bed with boughs, leaves and a blanket or two; we admire a boy using an axe expertly.

Book knowledge should come; it must come; it is absolutely essential. But are we not making the mistake of relying almost wholly on books in our task of education and neglecting the great out-doors and the wonderful works which nature alone presents to us? Is not the early education of our Canadian boys and girls too academic in character, and not quite practical enough?

Nature study in all its many branches is much more interesting to the average boy and girl in their earlier years than is book study, and the lessons they learn from nature will remain with them when much book learning is forgotten. Furthermore, the traits and characteristics developed through close contact with, and study of nature's own methods, are traits and characteristics which create habits of observation and initiative that will be found invaluable in life, irrespective of the profession or business in which one may ultimately engage, and they are real assets which are not so easily found within the covers of books.

Canada is a land of beauty and variety. Nature has been bountiful in her gifts to the Canadian people. It behooves us, therefore, to give our boys and girls every opportunity to observe, study and appreciate these beauties, to live and learn among and from them. Vacation days are happy days, but they are also, in the writer's humble opinion, among the most valuable of all our days of learning. There should be a way found to fit them more closely into our educational system.

Egg Laying Record

The Oyster Holds Undisputed Claim To This Honor

The world's egg-laying record, 25,000 in one second, 115,000,000 in 70 minutes, 690,000,000 in a year—all by a female oyster—is claimed by the oyster.

The feat was reported to a gathering of biologists, of international repute, civic, state and federal health authorities and shellfish commissioners from several states at the convention of the National Association of Shellfish Commissioners and the Oyster Growers and Dealers Association of North America, Inc.

Menace To Motoring Public

Outworn Car Is Becoming Peril On Modern Highway

The "One Horse Shay," made famous by Oliver Wendell Holmes, ran its course and then suddenly disappeared into atomic dust. Old cars are not as successfully disposed of, and unless some used-car dealer wins the gratitude of the motoring public by committing them to the junk pile they continue to obstruct traffic on the highway until they collapse in a heap of scrap at the roadside.

There is nothing romantic, uncanny or even interesting about the final chapter of the outworn car. Too often there is tragedy in the concluding lives.

The old, out-of-date, decrepit gas wagon is more than a problem—it's a peril. It now costs $25 in Old London to impede traffic by trying to operate an old car that should be on the junk heap. Public opinion will eventually ban such vehicles from our busiest highways, for they are certainly a menace not only to the owners, but to the motoring public as well.

Chain Letters

New Flood Of Chain Letters Cause Trouble To Postal Authorities

London postal authorities are again fighting a new flood of chain letters. The latest of them begins with the names of Charles Lindbergh, Colonel Dawes, Bernard Shaw, John Barrymore, Dorothy Dix and Ramsay MacDonald. By the letter, one is given to understand that all these celebrated people have written nine letters to nine other people. A subtle threat of sudden death to anyone who fails to carry on the chain is hidden in the wording.

Bright Eyes, Rosy Cheeks

The Birthright Of Every Girl

Dull eyes mean misery and weakness—a sure sign of a bloodless condition. Anaemic girls and women have dull, heavy eyes with dark lines underneath. The bright eyed girl or woman is always happy and well.

There is one way to make the eyes bright—to bring the glow of health to pale cheeks—that is to invigorate the body with new blood—rich, red health-giving blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this and they do it well. Concerning them Mrs. Robert Devitt, Brougham, Ont., says: "My daughter became so ill and nervous we had to take her out of school. She was pale and thin; her eyes were dull and the least exertion upset her. I began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in less than six months you would not know her. She gained in weight and strength and is now the picture of health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Makes Air Record

Pilot In Northern Alberta Flew 1,500 Miles In One Day, Making Five Stops

The latest of many air records in Northern Alberta was recorded the other day when Captain W. N. Sherlock, of Commercial Airways, flew 1,500 miles one day, making five stops en route for the delivery of letters and packages. The trip was made from Fort McMurray to Aklavik, with stops at Fort Resolution, Fort Simpson, Fort Norman, Fort McPherson and Arctic Red River. Captain Sherlock hails from Cumberland, England, and is a former member of the R.A.F.

Miller's Worm Powders prove their value. They do not cause any violent disturbances in the stomach, any pain or griping, but do their work quietly and painlessly, so that the destruction of the worms is imperceptible. Yet they are thorough, and from the first dose there is improvement in the condition of the sufferer and a cessation of manifestations of internal trouble.

British Columbia Minerals

A report of Hon. W. A. Mackenzie, Minister of Mines in British Columbia, shows an increased quantity production in the aggregate of minerals and metals, though the dollar gross value dropped from $34,122,722 in the first half of 1929 to $29,090,487 for the half year of 1930.

British Rule In India

What England Has Done and Can Do For People Of That Country

"Downeaster" writes as follows in the Canadian Churchman: The achievements of England in India during the last century, I think I may safely say, constitute one of the brightest pages in the history of our race and Empire. Like all human records, it is not of course without its blot. But I think it has on the whole fully justified Macaulay's closing words in his celebrated essay on the character and work of Lord Clive, "If in India the yoke of foreign masters, elsewhere the heaviest of all yokes, has been found lighter than that of any native dynasty, if that gang of public robbers that once spread terror through the whole plain of Bengal has been succeeded by a body of functionaries not more highly distinguished by ability and diligence than by integrity, disinterestedness and public spirit, if we see men like Munro, Elphinstone and Metcalfe, after leading victorious armies and deposing kings, return proud of their honorable poverty, the praise is in no small measure due to Clive." But to me, and I believe to the great majority of Britons throughout the Empire, England's noblest achievements in this connection will be the gradual fitting of the inhabitants of the Indian peninsula for self-government and should the event demand it, ultimate independence.

Nearly all children are subject to worms, and many are born with them. Spare them suffering by using Mother Graves' Worm Expeller, an excellent remedy.

"Did your husband follow my directions? Did he take the medicine I left for him religiously?" "I'm afraid he didn't, doctor. In fact, he swore every time I gave him a dose."

No Reciprocity

British War Veterans Will Have To Pay $10 Visa Fee

Eighteen British war veterans, coming to the United States for a convention next month, will be required to pay the usual $10 visa fee each, despite Great Britain's courtesy a few years ago in admitting several hundred American Legionnaires without charge.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, was informed in a note made public recently that the State Department regretted its inability to comply with his request for a blanket visa, but that the law gave it no alternative. A formal reciprocal agreement would be necessary, the State Department informed Sir Ronald.

THE FIRST BALK

With the announcement that the New Zealand government has decided to place Canadian motor vehicles and accessories on the general tariff list comes the first balk towards the new Conservative administration and Premier Bennett has yet to learn that he cannot hope to trade with other nations if he does not trade with them or at least keep the tariff in proportion to that of Canada's trading nations.
The reason for the action of the New Zealand government was that the Bennett administration has informed the dominion of New Zealand that the Australasian Treaty rates will no longer be in force after October. This is definite proof that Hon. R. B. Bennett cannot "blast his way to trade" and that he must treat the affairs of the Dominion of Canada as he would his own business and that he cannot expect to do business with other nations if he does not do business with them.

A GRAVE WARNING IS ISSUED TO THE FARMERS

(By H.G.L. Strange)

The Dominion Entomologists of Lethbridge and Saskatoon, H.L. Seamans and K. M. King, have issued a very grave warning to all farmers in Alberta and Saskatchewan regarding the great damage to crops that may occur next year because of the cut-worm.

The dry May and part of June that has been experienced in most parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan this year has tended enormously to increase this insect pest, and it is expected that unless May and June of 1931 are much wetter than is usually the case, that the greatest and most wide spread damage that has ever been experienced will result from cutworms. Most of Saskatchewan south of Saskatoon, it is expected, will be badly affected, with the worst damage within a hundred mile radius of Regina. In Alberta the damage will probably be very general east of a line from Edmonton to Macleod and as far south as the Lethbridge-Medicine Hat line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The damage to the 1931 crop will depend absolutely upon the way fields are handled this present August and September. The moth of the cutworm flies across the fields and lays its eggs, starting in the first few days of August, reaching its maximum flight about the 20th, and continuing to fly and lay eggs until about the middle of September. This moth will avoid all land that has had even a very slight crust formed upon it by rainfall, but will lay its eggs upon any soil where this crust has been broken however slightly. To avoid cutworm damage on a field, therefore, it is necessary that on summerfallowed land all work should stop by the first of August or a very few days afterward.
Then a very slight rain will form a crust on these fields, which will render them immune the following year from cutworm damage. It is important that no horses or stock or implements or wagons shall be allowed to cross any summerfallow prepared in this fashion, because wherever the crust is broken by animals or implements, there the moth will lay its eggs, and considerable damage will be experienced the following year. On fields in crop, where harvesting operations are conducted before about September 1st, then damage the following year is almost certain to be experienced unless these fields are summerfallowed.

It is apparent, therefore, that all fields which are cropped this year as far as possible, should be summerfal-lowed in the year 1931, and that in addition all work on summerfallowed fields this year should cease as soon after August 1st as possible, and that nothing should be allowed to walk over or cross these fields.

H. L. Seamans, Dominion Entomologist stationed at Lethbridge Laboratory, without hesitation states that it is far better to allow weeds to grow on the summerfallow after the first of August in these affected areas than to disturb the crust of soil and so invite cutworm damage.

GETTING DOWN TO BRASS TACKS ON WHEAT

(By Vernon Knowles, Chief of News Staff "Mail and Empire")

The amount of sheer balderdash that is being written and talked in a panicky way about the wheat and crop financing situation, is the best illustration imaginable of the old adage that "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

Reasoning people will not blame the wheat pool for every dire circumstance. They will recognize that the pool handles but little more than half of each year's wheat crop and, with the exception of last year, has had such success as to have won merited praise rather than criticism.

Alarmist Reports and Ignorance

But, getting right down to brass tacks, is there anybody simple enough to be stampeded by alarmist reports into thinking that the banks, with millions of dollars in wheat through the pool as well as through "the trade" are going to work deliberately to smash the pool—to bankrupt more than half the wheat-growers of the West. For that is what the suggestion means. Is there enough ignorance in this country to swallow the silly idea that the banks are about to wreck the Prairie West's economy, when by so doing the banks would be murdering Canada and committing suicide themselves?

Now, piled upon the top of a lot of such rot, the annual elevator jam is being trotted out; the carry-over of last year's wheat is being demonstrated as most fearsome, and timid souls are being given to fear, by mountains of statistics, that the wheat is going to be allowed to rot out upon the bald-headed prairie.

Some facts are readily available.
For instance, a month ago the Federal Bureau of Statistics showed that the anticipated total carry-over of the 1928 and 1929 crops combined would reach 115,000,000 bushels. By reason of better export demand than was looked for the carry-over is only one hundred and eleven million bushels, some four million bushels less than had been anticipated; a favourable sign in itself.

Then the bureau estimates the coming crop at 85 per cent of the ten-year average, which would place it approximately at three hundred and twenty-million bushels. It is quite erroneous to state, as has been published, that only forty-seven million bushels are retained for seed, home consumption or milling. This is a clear instance of where statistical careles-ness may produce fear, and is quite illustrative of the degree of reliance that may be placed upon the panicmongers.

As a matter of fact, the usual allowance for home purposes in ascertaining the export surplus of a crop is around one hundred and fifteen million—seed, forty two million bushels; forty-four million bushels milled for human food; nine million bushels for loss in cleaning, etc.; seven million bushels representing the non-merch-antable wheat and a balance for animal feed. With lower-priced wheat the quantity fed to livestock will be higher than in past years.

These statistics require no division, they are available to whoever may seek them at the Bureau of Statistics of the Dominion Government in Ottawa and are the product of many years of experience.

The Panic Mongers

We have thus shown that panic enthusiasts, even in one article, by guessing wrongly at the carry-over and at the home consumption allotment, are able to produce a bogey, some seventy-three million bushels in error, to frighten economic children; or to convey the idea that the new government is about to combine with a ca-bal of malignant bankers to send the western farmer—with his wheat pool, and not in lesser degree his private grain operator—to the demolition bowwows.

Nobody can tell the exact world facts about wheat, but in Canada one can come reasonably close to the real position of things for this country alone. Here, then is substantially the situation.

Canada has an anticipated crop of three hundred and twenty million bushels plus a carry-over of one hundred and six million bushels; of this four hundred and twenty-six million bushels of wheat, one hundred and fifteen million is allowed for home purposes, leaving an export surplus of three hundred and nine million—which is less than one year's crop.
Canada in the past has marketed as much as four hundred and fifty million bushels in a heavy crop year, even with the United States figuring as an exporter. This year the United States is out of the export picture.

Banks on the Job

It is nonsense to say that the banks won't finance the wheat. They always have done so and this year can be no exception. Anybody who chooses to inquire intelligently can find what the facts are. Normally, the Federal Department of Finance elasticizes the currency with the approach of harvest, to enable the banks to finance that harvest. This year the finance department will elasticize the currency; as usual; as a matter of form.
The banks, taking due advantage of that action, will finance the wheat pool and the private trader to do their business. The Wheat Pool, like the private trader, may want from the banks more than the banks thing wise to advance, but it is the bank's business to preserve their own lives, to conserve the interests of their depositors while facilitating the country's business, and to protect the credit of Canada. But the banks will finance the wheat.

And the private trader and the pool will pay the farmer his due, either in full, or in the form of an advance payment and later payments according to profitable marketing.

Business as usual—back to brass tacks; that's what it is, and perhaps after the heady boom of last year that is why some people don't understand it.

The wheat will be financed; the farmer will get a liberal allowance compared with world prices; the west's purchasing power will be restored, and the government will get back its function of stimulating the marketing instead of damming back the flow by promoting prohibitive prices through unwise guarantees.

Libelling the Farmer

The panic-monger deals with the farmer just as he deals with the statistics. He misjudges and misrepresents both. To suggest that the farmer of the west is going into wheat bootlegging by wholesale and thus break up the pool he cheated, is to suggest that the western farmer is a welsher and a cheat. The western farmer is not going to violate the sanctity of his contract, break his pledged word, destroy his bond—just because somebody with an axe to grind and not sufficient understanding to put an edge on it, paints of his 1930 crop future a picture more dark and troubled than the facts warrant.

British Scientist To Explore Old Hunting Ground In Turkestan

Sir Aurel Stein left Simla, recently, on what may prove to be as wonderful an expedition as any of those which this savant has already to his credit. His ultimate objective is his old hunting ground, the Lop Desert, in Chinese Turkestan, south-east of the Tien Shan range, but en route he has mapped out a fascinating programme. The expedition has been made possible by the generosity of Harvard University, which has contributed £20,000, and the British Museum, which is contributing £2,000 annually for three years.

JOSIAH "A ROYAL REFORMER"

Golden Text: "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and light unto my path."—Psalm 119:105.

Lesson: 2 Kings 22; 23:1-3, 21-25; 2 Chronicles 34 and 35.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 119. 9-16.

Explanations and Comments

The Character and Reign Of Josiah, 22:1, 2.—Josiah was the son of Amon and Jedidah. He became king of Judah when eight years of age, and it is that during his reign of thirty-one years he "wholly followed the Lord," pursuing righteousness as did David his ancestor, not deviating from it in any way.

"In Josiah's youthful training is probably to be found the explanation of his remarkable character and work," writes Professor Kent. "The probabilities strongly support the conclusion that his youthful teacher was the prophet Zephaniah, whose sermons roused the nation as well as the young king. The stern, uncompromising spirit which characterizes the prophet's reform sermons is reflected in the extreme measures adopted later by Josiah. Jeremiah must have been born during the closing years of Manasseh's reign, and was therefore a contemporary of King Josiah and of the royal prophet Zephaniah. In the light of the narrative of Kings, it is evident that Zephaniah and Jeremiah did not stand alone in their efforts for reform. Hilkiah the priest was in full sympathy with the new movement. And Josiah had gathered about him a group of able officers who supported him in his reform measures."

The Finding Of The Book Of The Law, 22:3-8.—When twenty-six years of age Josiah turned his attention to the repairing of the ruined temple. Through Shaphan, the scribe, he directed Hilkiah, the priest, to take account of the money which the people had brought to the House of God and give it to the Levites appointed to receive it. The latter were to pay the men for their work on the temple. The overseers were Levites, other Levites encouraged the workmen with music, and yet other Levites were scribes and officers and porters. The work progressed rapidly.

During this work upon the temple, Hilkiah found the book of the law of Jehovah. This book of the law was probably the legal portions (chapters 12 to 26 and chapter 28) of our Book of Deuteronomy (which calls itself "The Book of the Law") and also "The Book of the Covenant". For Josiah's reforms followed the directions laid down in these chapters.

The Effect upon Josiah Of The Reading Of The Book Of The Law, 22:9-13.—After telling the king that the work upon the temple was progressing well, the money having been given to the overseers and the workmen put at work, Shaphan told him of the discovery of the book and read it aloud to him. The king rent his clothes in token of his troubled mind. "For," said he, "great is the wrath of Jehovah that is kindled against us, because our fathers have not hearkened unto the words of this book, to do according unto all that which is written concerning us." Read Chapters 12-16 of Deuteronomy, with Josiah in mind, and it will be easy to see why he was so greatly moved.

4 Years without HEADACHE

How do you deal with headaches? Do you just take something to deaden the pain without getting rid of the trouble which causes the pain? Thousands do, despite the medical profession's warning cry of "DON'T!"

Such makeshift methods simply suppress the symptoms of headaches. They merely numb the nerves and leave the underlying cause to look after itself. And it only obtains a firmer grip. Headaches can generally be traced to a disordered stomach and to the unsuspected retention in the system of stagnating waste material which poisons the blood. Remove these poisons—prevent them forming again—and you'll never have to worry any more. And that is just how Kruschen Salts bring swift and lasting relief from headaches. Kruschen Salts aid Nature to cleanse your body completely of all clogging waste matter.

"For many years I suffered from severe headaches almost daily. I started taking the small dose (of Kruschen) a matter of four years ago, and I can honestly say I have never had a headache since."—Mrs. M. W.

High School Correspondence Courses For Saskatchewan

Premier Anderson Implements Pledge To Extend Higher Educational Facilities To Rural Communities

Implementing his pledge to extend high school facilities to boys and girls in rural communities of Saskatchewan, Premier J. T. M. Anderson, as Minister of Education, has announced that, beginning in September, high school correspondence courses in Grades 9, 10 and 11 will be inaugurated by the Department of Education. These courses, while not intended to interfere in any way with existing school arrangements, are being instituted for the benefit of Saskatchewan boys and girls who have not reasonable opportunities of obtaining a high school education in their own districts.

Optional Subjects

The courses will provide full preparation of students for Junior Matriculation and Entrance to Normal Schools. In addition to all compulsory subjects of Grades IX, X and XI, the Department is offering many optional subjects such as Agriculture, Chemistry, Physics, Home Economics, Latin and French.

Pupils eligible for these courses must be residents of Saskatchewan and have Grade VIII or equivalent standing. The course in Grades IX and X are offered to pupils who live outside an organized school district or who cannot attend school owing to some physical disability; to pupils who live within a school district but for some valid reason cannot attend school; to pupils who are in attendance at a one-room rural school, such pupils to work under the supervision of the local teacher who may refer questions to the Director in charge. The Grade XI course is restricted to pupils who live more than four miles from a school where Grade XI is being taught. A nominal fee will be charged for all the courses except those taken under supervision of the local teacher.

This new education activity in Saskatchewan is under charge of the Premier J. T. M. Anderson, Minister of Education, who announces a policy of High School Courses by Correspondence.

Director of High School Correspondence Instruction, Department of Education, Regina, from whom application forms and terms of enrolment may be obtained.

CHAPTER XXVI.—Continued.

The young man looked very serious as he replied: "Let me tell her, Charmian. I'm hardened to breaking unpleasant truths to people. Besides, unless I'm mistaken, Grandma is fond of me. I can break the news as painlessly as you can."

Late that afternoon when Charmian returned from a call at the Merrys', she found Grandma, bright-eyed, at the window.

"I've been been gallivanting," she explained as the girl kissed her. "Just after you started, along came the doctor and made me go for a ride. We've been clear to Eastboro, and I don't feel one mite tired. I will say that his car's a sight more comfortable than Edward Howe's was."

"I'm glad you've had such a good time," smiled Charmian. "Mrs. Merry has a new picture of the baby; and Madge wrote that she'd send me another view. He's terribly cunning—looks for all the world like a miniature George. What do you want for supper, Grandma? It's almost time."

"I don't want anything but a cup o' tea, dearie, and maybe a slice o' toast. I remember Edward Howe saying that old folks don't need much come night. And—see here, childy—the doctor told me about your plans and everything. I guess he thought he'd save you the trouble; and you're not to worry about me. I've always thought it would be kind of fun to live in a small house, and it'll be a sight easier for you. It'll be easier for me, too, not to go over the stairs come night. Besides, I'll be able to see a half block farther down the street from that window! And it's going to be wonderful having you home all day. You needn't worry a mite about how I'll take it, Charmian. Between you and me, dearie, I think it's going to be fun!"

Only after the girl had turned away, undecieved, and unable to speak at this display of bravery, did the old lips tremble.

"Thank God that's over," murmured Grandma brokenly, while two big tears crept slowly down over her wrinkled cheeks.

CHAPTER XXVII

There were times during the days that followed when Charmian found it difficult to believe that she and Grandma would ever leave the shelter of the homestead. They seldom talked about it, but when the impending changes could not be ignored, the old lady spoke cheerfully, stoically refusing admittance to the tears that lay so near the surface. Only when she was alone did her face show any of the dismay that filled her tired old heart. These were hard days for Grandma Davis.

"Seems somehow as if she'd grown smaller—shrunk, you might say," commented Lizzie Baker to Salina Knowles. "It ain't easy to make changes at Grandma's age; and she's keepin' up before Charmian more'n's good for her. And I'm sorry for Charmian, too. I ain't ever see a young person that set such store on anything old as she does on that old house. I declare, Salina, there's times when I wish whoever's buyin' it would back out of his bargain."

But Miss Lizzie was not to get her wish. It was the last day of August when George K. hailed Charmian as she passed the bank, and led her into the little room which had a formidable "Private" on its door; but which was in reality no more private than the air we breathe, because only on rare occasions did the president of the Wickfield National close his door. He closed it now, however, and asked: "What you been up to this afternoon?"

Charmian smiled as she responded: "Why all this privacy? I've been to the library, as you might deduce from this armful of books. But I got more than the books, Uncle George. I got a job! Miss Garfield has asked me to help at the library two hours each afternoon. Isn't that wonderful? I can easily leave Grandma that long, or get Miss Lizzie to come in and sit with her; and it will bring in a little money. It was Gam's idea. I'm going to stop at his office now and thank him."

"Well, that's fine!" George K. spoke cheerfully. "It'll do you good to get away each day, and see folks. What I called you in for, Charmian, was to say that you can sign the deed at ten o'clock tomorrow. I just got word that your man will be here then, and wants to see you. I told him to come to the bank—thought maybe it would be hard for Grandma to see the act done, as you might say. I'm thankful now, child, that she deeded the place to you. It would be hard for her to sign the house away. There, Charmian, if you feel like crying, cry on my shoulder; but I advise you to buck up. In the long run most things come out right in this old world. If I didn't believe that truth I shouldn't be as happy as I am, or as fat, either!"

"Haven't you forgotten something?" asked George K. as she reached the door. Charmian turned, her eyes aglow with sudden merriment. This was an old joke of childhood's days, when as a little lass she often slipped into the room marked "Private," in search of the wee pink checkermints which George K. used to tell her "grew in his pockets." If, in those days, she forgot to bestow upon him a grateful kiss, he reminded her thusly and was rewarded by a sometimes strangling embrace. She came back now, laughing as she kissed him. Then the door closed behind her, while George K., watching from a window, saw her cross the street and start up the narrow stairs that led to Gam Garfield's office in the building opposite.

Charmian, finding Gamaliel busy with a client, delivered her thanks briefly and moved on up Main Street with lagging feet. No need to tell Grandma that the dread day was at hand, she thought. Let her sleep in peace this last night under her own roof-tree. As for herself, she must swallow that lump in her throat and remember, as George K. said, that things usually turn out all right. It was wonderful that Miss Garfield needed help at the library just now. She must write Jim about it—if ever he answered her last letter. Miss Lizzie's latest bulletin from California had brought news that he had "a girl." Perhaps he was too busy playing 'round with her to write to "the girl he left behind him," thought Charmian whimsically; and, having reached the house, stopped to look up at the carved pineapple above the door.

"I hope they'll give it the coat of gold leaf it deserves," she said, and went inside, laid her books on the table by the door, and then stood still, staring into the room that had been a shop for almost as long as she remembered.

"Haven't you a word of greeting for the returned prodigal?" asked Jim Bennett.

He arose from where he was sitting beside Grandma, and caught Charmian's hands in both of his.

"Steady!" he said. "Folks have been known to expire of shock. I'd have warned you of my arrival but I started at a moment's notice, almost. Sit down, Charmian, and catch your breath."

"I'm not faint," she protested, "merely struck dumb, as you might say, Jimmy, you look—well—"

"Different, doesn't he?" put in Grandma; and Charmian, noticing her for the first time since this amazing homecoming, saw that her sweet old face looked happier than it had for days. "He's got a sort of air about him," she was saying. "I saw it right off when he came in. He looks—stylish."

"Gosh!" breathed Jim. "You talk like my mother before she fell in love with a fruit ranch."

Charmian laughed, spontaneously, and Grandma asked: "You mean you're playing second fiddle these days?"

"Something mighty near it," grinned Jim. "Will you believe it, Grandma, my dotting mother hardly noticed when I deserted. I left her sampling a new variety of citron. Gee! but it's good to be home!"

"Then you haven't fallen in love with—" began Charmian, when Grandma interrupted in horrified reproach:

"What do you mean, child, asking such a question?"

"I was only going to say in love with California," explained the girl, and Jimmy roared.

"No," he replied, after his mirth had somewhat subsided, "I didn't lose my heart to—California. It has its good points, of course. Mother and Aunt Sophie are nuts over it—boosters, I call 'em; but as for me—I wouldn't swap one of Wickfield's winding, elm-shaded streets for the whole darn state of California, and that's the truth."

"There!" ejaculated Grandma with satisfaction. "I always said that there's not a prettier spot on earth than Wickfield. Here comes the doctor, Charmian. He seems to be in a hurry. Maybe—"

But with haste that seemed to both Grandma and the young man rather uncalled for, Charmian sprang up, and was at the door when John Carter reached the steps. She did not guess that in the moment that followed, both those loyal hearts in the room beyond were to be wrenched almost to the breaking point. She did not realize that the front door was reflected in the long mirror that hung beside it, nor would it have troubled her if she had known. All she saw or thought of was the light in John Carter's eyes as he thrust a scrap of yellow paper into her hands. She read the message and looked up, her lovely face reflecting the happiness that shone from his; and the next moment he caught her in his arms and kissed her, rapturously, exultantly. . . .

CHAPTER XXVIII

As those two in the doorway moved out of the mirror's line of reflection, Grandma lifted compassionate eyes to Jimmy Bennett. She could not speak. Her throat felt parched. Anything she might say would seem inadequate; so it was in silence Jim arose and moved dazedly

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

The Safest, Surest Way To Health

The daily dash of ENO in a glass of water every morning is the safest, surest way to inner cleanliness. And to be inwardly clear is to be healthy.

ENO'S "Fruit Salt" is a delicious health beverage that tones and sweetens the entire system. For constipation, acid stomach, fatigue and biliousness it is without equal.

But remember, only ENO can give ENO results.

toward the door that led to the room beyond.

"I—I'll get out the back way," he managed to say huskily. "You tell her that George K. sent for me. Tell her anything you're a mind to—except the truth. I'll be all right after a minute. . . . Don't worry. . . . I'll . . ."

But he was too late. Charmian was back, her eyes still shining as she glanced in bewilderment from Grandma's troubled countenance to the grim face of her old playmate.

"Where are you going?" she began, puzzled. "Come back, Jim. Sit down. I've got some news for you. What makes you act so queer?" Then light broke in upon her and she cried: "Oh, look here! Did—did you see that idiot kiss me?"

Her cheeks flamed, but Jim still stood in the doorway. He might have been a statue. He didn't speak; but Grandma answered shakily: "In—in the mirror, dearie. I didn't know you cared that way—either of you. I thought . . ."

"I see," said Charmian. She laughed, and going close to Jim, looked at him: "And you thought, too, Jim? Really, I don't know that I blame you. It must have looked that way. That kiss—"

"You don't have to explain a kiss like that, Charmian," Jim broke in gruffly. "It spoke for itself. I wish you happiness, of course; but now. . . . Uncle George is waiting for me, and . . ."

The girl drew an exasperated breath.

Some people are so blinded with tears from weeping over opportunities that have passed they cannot see those that are coming.

Minard's Liniment is a household friend.

London men are wearing green suits.

Distemper responds quickly to Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. Keep a bottle handy in the stable.

Fineness of nature is the first requisite of real beauty.

Use Minard's Liniment for Foot Ailments.

Roses should be planted in the dormant season.

When Pain Comes

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Clarke of Swatwell, were Carbon visitors on Wednesday.

The past week has been of uncertain weather conditions and over the holiday the air was damp and cold with little sunshine. Some rain fell in the district and harvesting operations were suspended for a couple of days.
However, with the warm weather now prevailing it is expected that most of the threshing in the district will be completed by the middle of next week.

She: Why do you call your car
"Flapper"?

He: Streamline body, swell paint job, quick pick-up, all kinds of speed, keeps me broke, warms up quick and is always ready to go.

A MOMENTOUS TIME!

The fate of the Wheat Pool now rests entirely with the Pool members.

The Pool will triumph over all obstacles if the membership remains steadfast and unswayed by idle rumor.

The struggle is now at the hardest part, and the loyalty of every Pool member is of urgent importance. The result of the issue lies with the membership.

The safest place for your wheat is in the Wheat Pool, and it should be delivered to Pool elevators.

AN EASTERN OPINION OF WESTERN FARMERS
(Mail and Empire, Toronto)

"To suggest that the farmer of the West is going into wheat bootlegging by wholesale and thus break up the Pool he created, is to suggest that the western farmer is a welsher and a cheat. The Western farmer is not going to violate the sanctity of his contract, break his pledged word, destroy his bond—just because somebody with an axe to grind and not sufficient understanding to put an edge on it paints of his 1930 crop future a picture more dark and troubled than the facts warrant."
